Boston, Nov. 5.

The Free-soilers held a meeting to night at Fancuil Hall, which attracted a great crowd.—
Resolutions were passed in favor of receiving Kossuth, O'Brien, and Mazzini. Among the speakers was Giddings, of Ohio, who was twice called a liar during his speech, and frequently interrupted by calls and cheers for Webster. He however finished his address, and no serious disturbance took place, as was feared.

The St. Louis Republican, in giving an account of a delegation of Indians from the Plains, now on a journey to the East, says—
"With the exception of Friday, the others have not before seen the white settlement. Their nations gave them up to the Great Spirit, when they selected them to go—and in the event of the death or loss of any or of them, it will be difficult to explain and reconcile it to the nation

The journey to the Indiens since their arrival in the settlements, has been one of great wonder, and in some case of alarm and fear. Except what they had seen at Fort Laramie and Fort Kearney, they knew nothing of the white man's lodges; but their great astonishment was in seeing a steamboat, and their fears were excessive upon going upon it. They called it a fire horse, and it was a considerable time before they could reconcile themselves to the 'noise and confusion' of blowing off steam, the steam whis tle, ringing the bell, &c. At first the motion of the boat made some of them sick; but as they are among the most intelligent of their respective tribes, they became reconciled and quieted. They were highly delighted when they saw the 'fire horse's brother, (another steamboat,) with a papoose "(the yawl) hitched to his tail, ascending the river. Thus far, as soon as their apprehensions of danger subsided, they became quite inquisitive and highly delighted with every thing they met with."

"Not one out of twenty persons can produce the 'rappinga.' I do not think I have over rated it. The method of doing them is this: Let an impresse, and to do that choose a very revocation of the principles of electricity. Enter a room; place year hands upon a table flat wise, and let rous attitude be easy and comfortable. Let your hands remain lightly, for it does no good to pees or bear down. Your right hand should be placed upon the top of the impresse, the story like his placed easily upon the table. Now be perfectly calm and secret; do not brace your mind against the object sought after, but let it be perfectly free; have a will for the desired effect, that of saying sound upon the table. The great celerity with which the letter-writers for the distant press circulate through the telegraph their hurried accounts and views of the debates of Congress, renders more important than ever the full and exact official reports of the Congressional. Gloss. The hasty, and in many instances ex parte, relations by telegraph of what occurs in Congress supersede, for the most part, the exact reports taken down by reporters, and which formerly, in a shape more or less abbreviated, went the rounds of the press. Now the telegraph accounts, with all their imperfections and variety of colorings, take the run of the country, and no press but the official of Congress ever publishes the full debate with the proceedings of both Houses unmutilated. Indeed, no newspaper can give them, and have room for advertisements and the miscellaneous matter essential to their existence. While, therefore, the telegraph administers to the eager appetite of the public for Congress news, and meets the necessities of the political press, by furnishing a rapidly written epitome suited to the taste of its patrons, perfect information of what passes in Congress in greatly disminished. The circulation of the official reports has been, to some extent, cut off by the crude and diversified ancounts which, flying along the electric wree, satisfies curiosity, and it is almost in vain that truth puts on his boots to follow. Still there are a great many men of leisure and thought who like to see what is actually said and done in Congress, and to judge for themselves, rather than to receive impressions altogether from galvanic batteries. There are others, too, who, for the sake of the future, willingly patronize a work which preserves a full record of the doings of the great moving and controlling power of the Republic.

The undersigned has made preparations commensurate with the increased importance of the duty he has undertaken as the only reporter and publisher of the complete debates and pro ceedings, are given in the form of the Journals, with the yeas and nays on every important question.

The Appendix is made up of the President's Annual Message, the Reports of the principal Officers of the Government that accompany it, and all Speeches of Members of Congress, written out or revised by themselves. It is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe, and usually makes about the same number of pages during a sea ion.

During the first month or six weeks of a session, there is rarely more business done than will make two numbers a week—one of the Congressional Globe and one of the Appendix, but during the remainder of a session, tifter it guaually sufficient matter for two or three numbers of each eyery week. The next session will be unusually interesting; therefore, we calculate that the Congressional Globe and Appendix together will make at least 3500 large quarto pages, printed in small type—brevier and nonpareil. We furnish complete Indexes to both at the end of a session. We will endeavor to print a sufficient number o surfluscopies to supply all that may be miscarried, or lost in the mails; but subspribers should be very particular to file their papers carefully, for fear that we should not be able to supply all the lost numbers.

If subscribers shall not be satisfied with the work, the money paid by them for it will be refunded to them whereyer they return the numbers funded to them whereyer they return the numbers funded to them whereyer they return the numbers funded to them whereyer they return the numbers

If subscribers shall not be satisfied with the work, the money paid by them for it will be refunded to them whenever they return the numbers which have been received by them. I will give the subscription price for any previous volumes of the Congressional, Glogs or the Appendix, and will thank any person who will let me have them. I have a few copies of the back volumes of the Congressional, Glogs and Appendix for sale at $5 a volume bound, which it is probable will be disposed of soon; and when they are, they will then, no doubt, command at least $10 a volume, as they cannot be reprinted for less than that sum. TENTION is respectfully called to my new undertaking as General Agent for all Newspapers, Periodical Magazines, &c., published in the United States and Europe. I shall receive and canvass for subscribers, as well as collect all accounts against parties here and in Mobile that I may be entrusted with, having had an experience of over ten years in the Book and Newspaper business as proprietor of The Mobile Literary Depot, I fatter myself that I can and will give general satisfaction.

neess as propretor of The Mobile Interary Depot, i flatter myself that I can and will give general satisfaction.

The following are the rules that I have adopted:

1. Principal Office to be in New Orleans, where I shall confine myself strictly to the interest of my agencies alone, for which I shall charge the usual commissions, or such as may be agreed upon.

2. I shall confine myself strictly to the Cash principla accompanying my orders (when a draft can be had for the amount) with a sight check; when not so accompanied, the publisher can draw on me at sight for the amount from receipt of the order, or if requested in writing, I will enclose the cash itself and remit, but in all such cases it shall be at the risk of the Publisher.

3. Publishers wishing me to act for them are expected to furnish me with written authority, and send me specimen copies of their publications free of charge.

My object is to establish a General Southern Local Agency for Publishers throughout the Union. New Orleans in a central pace, commanding the whole Valley of the Mississipp, Texas and other places, making it a point of great importance for Publishers to have a good Agency for the better circulation of their publications. In the hope that my efforts in this enterprise will be properly appreciated and duly encouraged by your favors, I hereunto annex a blank Certificate of Agency, which you can fill and return to me by return mail
